

LEGISLATURE SHOULD BE CALLED

Mistakenly Signed Juvenile Court Bill Must Be Corrected Says Judge Wilbur

ERROR MAKES CALIFORNIA WORLD'S LAUGHING STOCK

Intention of Legislators Has Been Subverted—Special Session Only Remedy

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Juvenile Judge Curtis D. Wilbur today demanded a special session of the legislature to correct Governor Johnson's error in signing the wrong Juvenile Court bill.

Judge Wilbur, who has been at the head of the white slave investigations here, will be ousted if the mistake is not rectified. He said:

"This offense against the government should not be allowed to stand. It makes California the laughing stock of the world. The real and expressed intention of the legislature has been subverted, and people will be called upon to obey a law when it never was passed in a constitutional manner. There is only one recourse—a special session of the legislature."

GRAND JURY NOT TO PROBE WRONGFULLY SIGNED BILL

SACRAMENTO, June 27.—No grand jury investigation will be made into Governor Johnson's signing the wrong enactment of the Peoria Juvenile Court Act, unless the state officials request it, according to Judge Post, who is handling the matter.

The Los Angeles district attorney's office has asked an investigation. The bill as signed will oust Juvenile Judge Wilbur of Los Angeles, who has already served three years.

MASQUERADER LED TO MARITAL ALTAR FROM PRISON CELL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Romance followed tragedy and adventure quickly in the life of sixteen-year-old Aileen Shaw of Eureka, who was arrested yesterday for masquerading. Yesterday she was led from her cell in the prison to the marriage altar by Joseph Sturges, the suitor whose persistent search for her led to her arrest. There remains now no disposition on the part of the police to press the charges against her.

The reason she gave for wearing men's clothing was that a girl could not earn a decent living in San Francisco as a girl and be free from insult.

OHIO OFFICIAL COMPLAINED TO THE BRITISH CONSUL TO INSTRUCT VOTERS

Sec'y of State Graves to Mail Pros and Cons on Proposed Laws to 1,200,000 Voters When the Case Came to Trial Today the Accused Men Pleaded Guilty

SIX CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS FOR STUDY

Referendum Measures Include Workers' Compensation and Taxation Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 27.—Secretary of State Charles H. Graves this month will open and take personal charge of the largest summer school in politics in America. He will have on his list of enrolled students the 1,200,000 voters of the state of Ohio. His task will be that of conducting a course by mail on how to vote on the initiative and referendum measures that came before the voters of Ohio next fall. To do this effectively he has been given an appropriation of $50,000 by the people of the state.

Not only will Secretary Graves instruct the people on their rights and privileges in the fall election, but he must also, with rigid fairness and impartiality, see that each voter is given every opportunity to study fully both sides of every measure that is to be submitted to the people for approval or rejection. He must mail to every voter pamphlets containing the arguments advanced in favor of each submitted measure and at the same time mail a pamphlet containing the arguments against the measure as drawn up by the foes of the bill.

Already Secretary Graves' preliminary duties in this course of political study are far from light, and the period of the submission of referred measures has not yet arrived. As it stands he must see that the Ohio voters are properly instructed on the merits of four constitutional amendments, two providing for different forms of the "short" ballot, one for the exemption of public bonds, and another making women eligible for certain state positions. Besides these two other amendments, one calling for a classification of the general property tax and another for a smaller general assembly are now being initiated and will be submitted within a few weeks.

He will also have to instruct the people on the referred measures. One of these is a referendum on the workmen's compensation act, passed by the state legislature, which is going to be referred back to the people for final action. Other measures that are now being referred are bills seeking to disenfranchise students in educational institutions, the Cunningham agricultural commission bill and several taxation measures.

WAS READY TO MAKE OR TO REDUCE FAT

Weight Juggler Sued by "Fats" But Blessed by "Leans" in Denver Courtroom Scene

DENVER, June 27.—The "Fats" having finished their tales of woe in the prosecution of Marjorie Hamilton, charged with using the mails to defraud by sending false advertising promising to reduce women's weight, the "Leans" began their innings for the defense. Twelve baskets of testimonials were brought into court. Some of the extracts caused merriment. One read: "Praise heaven, I learned of your treatment before too late." Another said: "Bless you for making me lose forty-nine pounds."

The Hamilton woman under the name of Clara Martin promised to reduce Fat Cleopatra's girth.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—The police are still at sea for a solution of the mysterious murder of C. E. Pendell, the money lender, who was killed and his office ransacked of $100,000 last Wednesday. Two suspects, reported as fleeing toward Mexico, are being watched in the belief that they are connected with the crime. Several arrests have been made but all the prisoners gave an account of their time on Wednesday afternoon and were released.

DONTANVILLE AND CHAMBERLAIN LOW

Highway Engineer Figures Out Bids; Finds Contracts Will go to Low Figures For County

According to the figures of Engineer Halladay of the County Highway Commission, C. E. Chamberlain of Anaheim will build the portion of the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach good road to be let to contract on July 2, and W. A. Dontanville of Los Angeles will build the portion of the Orange-Huntington road to be let the same day. Bids were received last Tuesday, each bidder naming figure on ten items concerned in the work to be done. Chamberlain and Dontanville are low men, and probably will be awarded the contracts.

Chamberlain will build between five and six miles of road for $32,035.12 and Dontanville will get $13,993.75 for about three and a half miles of the Orange-Huntington road.

Chamberlain will build the paved road on West Fifth street from the west city limits west to the end of Fifth street, then south to First street and then west to the road that runs straight south to Huntington Beach. Dontanville will build on Orange-Huntington road west from Spadra road for three miles, and a strip of about half a mile north from the west end of the three-mile section.

Engineer Halladay has figured out the totals of the various bids as follows. For this construction work, as will be the case in all of the highway work, the county will furnish the gravel, rock and cement, and the contractor the oil.

YAMAMOTO SEES PEACEFUL ENDING OF LAND DISPUTE

TOKYO, Japan, June 27.—Premier Yamamoto stated today that the California anti-Asian land difficulty is nearing a satisfactory adjustment. The spirit of humanity and justice in America as well as the dignified opinion of the Japanese public, he said, would eventually solve the problem. Sentiment against Japan is confined to one state, and does not reflect the general feeling of America, he added.

JAPAN MAY BE INCENSED ANEW

Expulsion of Japanese Fruit Pickers From Hemet May Prove Firebrand

BRYAN ANNOUNCES CASE WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Matter May Be of International Import; Madero's Fall Ended Japanese Activity

WASHINGTON, June 27.—After a conference with President Wilson today, Secretary of State Bryan announced that the expulsion of a gang of Japanese fruit pickers from Hemet yesterday will be investigated by the department.

Secretary Bryan declared that Japan had made no representations, but withheld the facts in the case. The matter may develop into an international incident.

Official Washington was shocked last night by reports from San Francisco that the residents of Hemet, in Southern California, drove Korean fruit pickers out of the city under the impression that they were Japanese. This act, coming at this particular time, when relations between the two governments have been at a serious stage over the anti-Japanese legislation in the California legislature, was regarded as especially unfortunate because of the adverse sentiment that will be aroused in Japan by the action of the California citizens.

MADERO'S FALL HALTED JAPANESE ACTIVITY

OAKLAND, Cal., June 27.—Japan was blocked from gaining a hold on Mexico by Madero's fall, according to Walter J. McDougall, a newspaperman who interviewed Dr. Sims, Madero's former physician, now a fugitive in Honolulu. Dr. Sims said:

"Thousands of Japanese soldiers were sent into this country in the guise of farmers. They flocked down the west coast of Mexico from this country in their disguise, and were to uphold the Madero regime. In the meantime the Japanese colonized a large slice of the country. The Japanese who offered their services as constitutionalist soldiers recently near the Texas border, were the vanguard of these soldiers whose plan was thwarted by Madero's fall."

WOMAN IDENTIFIED; LARSEN ARRESTED FOR WIFE MURDER

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Mystery surrounding the Casa Verdugo slaying was cleared away yesterday when the victim was positively identified as Mrs. Mary Olson Larsen, and her husband, Louis Andrew Larsen, a barber, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. G. Gillis and Gates on a charge of slaying her.

The body, which is at Patton's undertaking parlors, 410-12 North Main street, was identified first by Mrs. Mary Garswiler, a friend of Mrs. Larsen, and later by the sixteen-year-old daughter of the slain woman, Louella Larsen, and by the accused man. Mrs. Garswiler's visit to the morgue followed a dream in which the face of Mrs. Larsen appeared before her as the victim of the tragedy.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND FAMILY OFF TO CORNISH

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Wilson and his entire family will leave Washington for Cornish, N. H., this afternoon. The President plans to remain in New Hampshire until Sunday, July 6, instead of returning to the White House on Monday.

STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

CINCINNATI, June 27.—Prospects are brighter today for an early settlement of the strike of 11,000 garment workers. President Rickert of the International Garment Workers is urging the strikers to resume work, accepting the employers' terms. Eleven locals have voted favorably on this proposition.

SIXTY VETERANS TO GETTYSBURG

State Gettysburg Commission
Headed Delegation to Famous Battlefield

SACRAMENTO, June 27.—Bearing the good will of all California, approximately sixty veterans of the various sections of the state left Sacramento on a special train at 1:45 yesterday afternoon for Gettysburg, where they will participate in the ceremonies in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle.

A remarkable feature of the occasion was the fact that the majority of the "old boys" walked without the aid of a cane—erect and smiling.

While the $1500 state appropriation to pay the transportation expenses of the veterans was declared illegal, many of those going have had their way paid by popular subscription in their home towns.

The delegation was headed by the State Gettysburg Commission, consisting of George W. Hicks of Sacramento, Dr. W. W. Russell of Marysville and S. E. Gibson of Oakland. The appellate court has held that the act authorizing the appointment of the commission is illegal, only insofar as it provides for the emergency fund for the veterans and the

MAKING AN EFFORT TO LOCATE GAS LEAK

Today a gang of employees of the Southern Counties Gas Company is at work tearing up pavement at the Rowley block corner in an effort to locate a troublesome gas leak. They will stay on the job until the leak is found. The company tried to remedy the situation by putting a new service to the Rowley block, but the leak did not close. Manager Cavanaugh has no record of the location of the pipes on this corner, the pipes having been laid many years ago.

LOWERING WELLS TO REACH LOWER LEVELS

Garden Grove News: While driving through the section northeast of town on a recent day the editor was informed of a movement to lower the pump pits of the wells a distance of about ten feet. The pumps now are on an average of over forty feet below the surface, it was estimated. J. O. Nickols has just sunk the pit of his well five feet, and on the Yockey place west of town the pump has been put down five feet below the surface. The Creedmore Gun Club finds it advisable to put in a pumping plant on a well that has been for years flowing.

Shine in Rhetoricals as Well

DENVER, June 27.—The first of the singing and literary contests of the thirty-first Bundes Turnfest of the North American Gymnastic Union, was held in the city auditorium today. Thousands of German visitors flocked to the great building, all of which was thrown open to accommodate the crowd. Recitation, declamation and literary contests preceded choral work by various groups made up from the 600 male singers who are here from all sections of the country. Simultaneously at the Lakeside stadium the visiting turners were holding more contests. At noon several hundred singers gathered in the Daniels and Fisher building tower and gave an open air concert. This afternoon at two o'clock 8,000 German school children of Denver gave an exhibition of gymnastic mass drills of various kinds. The day's program will close this evening with a musical in which thousands will participate.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots.
How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from Mateer's Drug Store, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

SOME RAIN BUT AS YET DAMAGE SMALL

The unusual storm of the last two or three days has caused only about a quarter of an inch of rain to fall here all told. Last night's measurement was .08 in. Two or three showers have fallen since the measurement was made.

While the rain may be enough to start the weeds to growing in the bean fields, the rain has done more good than damage there. Sugar beets are helped. Some hay may be discolored.

At the Auditorium

A new skit was put on the boards at the Auditorium last night, entitled "The Strikers," and is extremely funny. It is of the burlesque slapstick kind, that is full of absurd situations and keeps the audience in a whirl of laughter. In addition to this a number of catchy songs and bright dances are introduced that help to bring it up to one of the best one-hour shows that has been given since the opening night. There are also three splendid reels of pictures.

SCHOOL PLANNED TO TEACH IMMIGRANTS HOW TO FARM HERE

An agricultural school in Southern California, to welcome the immigrants when they came at the completion of the Panama Canal, to teach them how to get 100 per cent results out of a piece of ground, and have plenty of land for millions left, is planned by H. Edgar Fry, educational secretary at the Y. M. C. A., says the Los Angeles Examiner.

An instructor who can speak several languages has been secured to make the foreigners feel at home when they arrive here. The school will teach "intensive farming." In speaking of the school, Mr. Fry said: "To study intensive farming methods is to learn how to earn a good living and provide for a rainy day from the productions of a very small space."

"There is room for millions of intensive farmers on the space now but half utilized by thousands of the wholesale variety of agriculturists."

"We hope to be of service to the great number of incoming immigrants. We have an instructor who speaks several languages and the foreigner finds himself at home almost at once. He becomes familiar with our customs; learns somewhat of the different soils and their values, and thus is safeguarded from the selfish designs of the unprincipled promoter."

PROGRESS OF THE TARIFF BILL

The Wilson-Underwood tariff bill entered the third phase of its journey through the senate when the Democratic senatorial caucus began its detailed consideration. For more than a month, the Democratic members of the finance committee have been laboring over their private consideration of the bill. Their meetings have been held in secret as were the meetings of the ways and means committee in the house, and the senate caucus will be secret as was the house caucus. Every step of the procedure thus far taken with the tariff bill has been in the dark. It was passed through the house without adequate opportunity for consideration of any one of its 1400 items.

When the senate caucus gets through with it and it finally comes into the open senate for discussion, there will be the first opportunity in its legislative career for real consideration and discussion of this far-reaching and important measure. It is hoped that the senate debate will elicit information as to the reasons for many of the provisions of this measure. The earnest efforts of the Progressives in the house while the bill was on its passage there were so successfully resisted by the Democratic leaders that no material information was obtained. The five-minute rule under which the house was operating made this procedure possible. No such rule obtains in the senate and the prospect is that a full and fair examination of the measure in all its details may be had.

Thus far, the Democrats have championed the measure largely upon the theory that, because it unquestionably provides substantial reductions in many rates of duty, there must therefore inevitably follow a corresponding reduction in price to the consumers of articles on which the duty is cut. There is a genuine belief throughout the country that reduction in price to consumers must follow reduction in rates of duty. No evidence, however, has been adduced to support this natural assumption. On the contrary, the experience of the few reductions of rates in the Payne-Aldrich tariff has indicated that the assumption is not necessarily true. There are instances like that on hides and that on fertilizer materials where reduction of duty has been followed by an increase of price.

It is greatly to be desired that the examination of the pending bill in the senate shall produce reliable information on such matters. It is assumed, of course, that the members of the senate and house committees who are providing for these reductions of rates know something at least of the effect to be produced by the proposed changes and it is hoped that their knowledge on these important matters will become public during the course of the debate in the senate.

What the people of the country want is a material reduction in the prices of the great range of necessities of life. The belief that the reduction in these prices must necessarily follow the reduction in the rates of duty on such articles is both natural and widespread. The Democrats appealed directly to that belief in their campaign promises, both in their platform and in the speeches of their orators, to reduce the cost of living by reducing the tariff. They have framed their bill in secret and without regard to any recognized principle of tariff making. They have handled it in secret. The public judgment of it will be formed upon the test of its actual operation. If it produces a prompt and substantial reduction in the cost of living, it is certain to receive enthusiastic and widespread approval, but if it fails to produce such a reduction, the Democratic campaign promises will be proved to be sham and to have been based upon ignorance, and condemnation will be swift and inevitable.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT DECEPTION

When William Allen White, the famous editor of the Emporia Gazette, who is also the Progressive National Committeeman from Kansas, returned to his home a few days after an extended visit to California, he talked politics a little for publication and, in the course of his interview, made some complimentary remarks about President Wilson. With characteristic disingenuousness a number of the reactionary newspapers, both Democratic and Republican, while purporting to report Mr. White's interview, so garbled or distorted what he had really said as to create an entirely false impression. They made it appear that Mr. White had expressed the conviction that the Democratic party, under the leadership of Wilson and Bryan, would become the progressive party of the country. Mr. White thereupon wrote for his own paper an editorial in which he made perfectly clear his belief that the Progressive party offers the only hope the country has for a genuinely progressive homogeneous political organization.

Under the caption of "The Impossible Democrats," Mr. White said: "As a party of progress, the Democratic party is impossible. It is constitutionally a party of criticism. It holds its strength as a party of obstruction and opposition, and when it gets in power the few strong progressive leaders like Bryan and Wilson, who for the moment happen to dominate it, have to wear themselves out, not going forward but pulling their reactionary fellow Democrats forward."

"The Democratic party is doomed to failure. The Progressive leadership of Wilson and Bryan must be its undoing. For if these leaders actually dominate the party, they will split it; if they fail to dominate the party, they will split it. * * * * * Sooner or later both the straddling parties—the Republicans and the Democrats—will have to unite as a reactionary and conservative party, leaving the Progressive party as the only progressive party. The Democrats are impossible as progressives. The Republicans are hopeless."

Doings In Social and Club Circles

PROGRESSIVE WHIST PARTY

Social Event Given in Charming Surroundings by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor

In the beautiful, ornate banquet room and balcony recently added to Taylor Bros.' establishment, one of the most pleasurable social functions of the year was given last evening with Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor as host and hostess. A brilliant scene was presented when the affair was well under way, the beautiful gowns of the women and the handsome rooms done in gold blending in wonderful advantage under the radiance of the effective lighting. The tables and chairs, the buffet, the broad window seat in the rear of the banquet room, all finished in gold, added to the general resplendence of the setting. Asparagus ferns were massed in the window base and red dahlias in bouquets glowed magnificently in front of the massed greenery. The delicate tendrils of the ferns entwined the gilt pillars that divide the balcony and banquet room and travel their lacy leaves over the brackets supporting the gilded plate rail that adorns the sides of the banquet room.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor received their guests alone, but their delightful daughter and daughter-in-law were here and there, and in their charming way made every guest feel at home. A number of young women kept the card score in which Mrs. A. W. Rutan and Ben E. Turner led. Mrs. Rutan was awarded a dainty piece of statuary and Mr. Turner was given a stein, hand-painted in silver and gold. A Clipsey kettle, ladies' second prize, went to Mrs. Hiram Connell, and Park Roper won a smoker set for men's second-best score. Mrs. A. J. Klunk of Orange and J. J. Roper of Santa Ana were awarded the consolation trophies, Mrs. Klunk receiving two pairs of brass scissors and Mr. Roper being given a deck of cards and a box of cigars.

A three-course collation was deftly served on the card tables by carefully trained waiters brought from Los Angeles, each of the tables having as centerpiece tall-handled brown baskets filled with salted pecans. The individual plates were molded as big red roses, and figs stuffed with nuts were the delicacies of the final course.

More than one hundred guests enjoyed the delightful hospitality of the Taylors, among them being Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Taft and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Taft of Santa Monica.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. J. Herbert Caldwell very pleasantly entertained twenty-five of her friends and neighbors in commemoration of her birthday. The pretty home was bright with dahlias and Shasta daisies.

An interesting feature was the exhibition of much handsome drawn-work such as curtains, tablecloth, napkins and centerpieces, all being the splendid handwork of Mrs. Caldwell.

Messrs. Carnahan and Johnson assisted in serving an abundant variety of home-made cake and delicious ice cream. The guests departed after wishing many happy returns of the delightful occasion.

GRANDDAUGHTER OF POET IS BRIDE IN EUGENIC WEDDING

It seems entirely fitting that a granddaughter of Longfellow, the gentle Longfellow, the "Children's Poet," who exalted purity and all the virtues of life, should be the bride in the first eugenic wedding in the state of Massachusetts.

From Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., comes the story over the wires that Miss Della Farley Dana, granddaughter of Henry W. Longfellow, was married yesterday by a justice of the peace at Dana Beach, to Robert H. Hutchinson, who has just graduated at Harvard.

In answer to the following question by the justice, "have each of you obtained the assurance of a physician that you are fitted for the high calling of parenthood?" both replied in the affirmative.

STUDENT RECITAL

Enjoyable Event Given at Home of Mrs. Hickox of Pupils of Mrs. Keller

The piano recital given last Monday evening at the Hickox home by the pupils of Mrs. Louis P. Keller was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. From start to finish it was an artistic success, and impressed the audience with the painstaking and conscientious work of a masterful teacher.

Little Elizabeth Bruner in The Pixies on the Water, and Ruth Hickox in Sonata Opus 55 No. 1, both played remarkable advancement for the time they have spent in their work.

In her two numbers, Jewell Hickox pleased her audience by the sympathetic and intelligent interpretation she displayed.

Petite Eleanor MacIntosh, with Mrs. Keller at the second piano, wound her way through the intricate mazes of Gurlitt's Fantasia in a way that astonished those present. This little lady promises to be a star performer if permitted to continue her study.

Miss Louise Long and Miss Marie Champlin both merited the warm praise they received for the very musicianly way in which they performed their numbers. Both young ladies are charming pianists and give promise of splendid musical careers. The work of Miss Ruth Armstrong, who is one of Mrs. Keller's most advanced pupils, displayed remarkable technique and an intelligent appreciation of the great masters whose work she brought to her audience. Miss Armstrong's playing exhibited the skill of the finished musician.

The two vocal numbers by Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe, who assisted Mrs. Keller in her program, were sung in her usual charming manner and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. The only complaint of the guests was that the evening was all too short.

Engineer—Wants No Advice
From Anyone

Yesterday when Architect Frank Hudson of Los Angeles accepted employment through City Clerk Burke to make an inspection of the Grand Opera House, he outlined his plans. He said that he is coming to Santa Ana on Monday. All he asks for are the keys to the building. He will have his engineer with him, and he says he will get his information by examining the building, not by interviewing anyone here. From the data secured he will make up his report, upon which the city and the owner and lessee of the opera house have agreed to act.

WEST IS BACK

Deputy District Attorney Koepsel stated today that it was probable that the action against the City of Orange to abate the alleged West Orange sewer farm nuisance would not be filed until after the return of District Attorney West from Kentucky.

The complaint as drawn up will ask the superior court to issue an injunction against maintaining the septic tank and sewer farm as now conducted. The deputy district attorney has gone over the vicinity personally. He found that the sewage was being used to irrigate potatoes, beans and some fruit trees.

N. H. Leonard, who owns a ranch upon which the sewage was used last year, is named as a defendant.

PURCHASE WAS PERSONAL BUY

ORANGE, June 27.—D. F. Martin, a leasing and purchasing agent for the Standard Oil Co., stated today that he is the Standard man interested in the purchase of the MacMullan ranch for $13,500. The purchase was made by him and his brother-in-law, William E. Burke, a retired capitalist, who recently sold a cement mill at Hidalgo for $1,000,000. Martin hopes to get Burke interested here.

Martin says that the investment is a personal one. Under the rules of the company a purchasing agent cannot make personal investments until they are first passed up to the company so that the company can have the chance to buy. He says the MacMullan buy was planned by him as a personal investment, and that the company had rejected the buy for itself.

Martin said the Olive oil well is now down 1200 feet and that the prospects for oil are good. The well is now in shale, having already passed through shallow oil sand. He says the company will drill other wells on the Bixby lease should the well now going down fail to strike oil.

OVERHANGING LIMB BREAKS WINDSHIELD WOMAN'S NOSE CUT

Part of an umbrella tree extending over the edge of the street in the 700 block on West Third street caught the windshield of an automobile yesterday, and the driver, Miss Isabelle L. Bennett, of 558 Boston Court, Pasadena, had her nose cut by a piece of glass.

Miss Bennett was driving along the edge of the street and was not watching the street ahead closely. Suddenly the windshield was smashed against the umbrella tree. The shield was bent backward and partly over Miss Bennett, who had no time to escape. The glass was broken, and a piece of it flew into Miss Bennett's face.

AFTER TRANSFERMEN WITHOUT LICENSES

ORANGE, June 27.—G. M. Bay, a drayman, took an unusual course to call the attention of the city officials to the fact that a number of men do an occasional transfer business without paying a city license. His method was to refuse to pay his usual license, be arrested and pay a fine. That gave him a chance to tell what he knew about the business. He demands that those who do pay licenses be given protection against those who do not pay. The course has had the desired effect.

7 SMALL TUMULTYS HAVE MUMPS ALL AT ONCE—DAD ESCAPES

WASHINGTON, June 27.—If President Wilson wakes up some morning and finds one of his cheeks swollen out to an alarming degree, the chances are ten to one that he will say "tut, tut" to his jovial secretary, Joseph Patrick Tumulty, whose seven children are now enjoying the mumps.

This malady started with one of the young Tumultys and spread through the whole flock. Thus far "Papa" Tumulty has escaped contagion, but he takes a tablespoonful of vinegar every morning. Whether the President takes a like dose is not known.

ORANGE MOVES RAPIDLY AHEAD

GROWTH STEADY BUT NEVER LETS UP

High School Addition and Store Fronts Being Completed; New Church Planned

(Staff Correspondence.)

ORANGE, June 27.—Any person coming into Orange today for the first time in a year or two finds quite a different little city from the one he saw on his last visit. Changes have been made, changes that make Orange a better place to live and make a living. Along with the street paving that has been done, dozens of new homes of the better class have been built. The $22,000 church of the First Presbyterians was completed only about four months ago, and now another big, fine church has been planned. That church is the St. John's Lutheran church.

Yesterday an Indiana visitor came over to Orange with his wife and daughter. He declared the place is the prettiest town he ever saw. He said that he likes to see a town grow, and that was one reason he was particularly attracted to Orange. Orange is growing at a rapid rate. It has been growing steadily for the last eight or nine years, but just at present and for some months past there has been "more doing" here than ever in that prosperous period. The pace has been accelerated.

Handsome New Church
Among the newest projects now well under way is that of building a new Lutheran church. The Germans are among the best citizens of the county, and many of them make St. John's Lutheran church their place of worship. For a score of years and more the church has conducted an efficient parochial school. About twenty years ago the church now used by the congregation was built. Since then that building has become inadequate for the work of the church, and a short time ago the money was raised for a new church. Something of the thrift and prosperity of the German people may be gathered from the statement that the $25,000 for the church was all subscribed before another step was taken.

Plans for the church drawn by F. H. Eley of Santa Ana have been accepted, and next Monday night bids will be opened. There is a plan on foot to buy a new site, leaving the present church and school where they are. That is a matter to be considered by the congregation.

High School
Orange has always maintained a reputation for good schools, and there is no question but what that reputation will never be otherwise than good. Just at present the Orange Union High School district is watching the construction of two handsome additions to the present high school building, which has become too small for the needs of the district. These two buildings, built on either side of and toward the street from the old building, will make a fine educational group and a plant well fitted to care for the needs of the district. With the new term opening in September, the high school will add domestic science, manual training and other departments to make the school thoroughly up to modern demands. Recently the board bought five lots adjoining the high school on the north as additional grounds for the school. The buildings will represent all told an expenditure of about $100,000.

Street Paving
Orange has jumped into the class of cities with paved streets. In the last year approximately $90,000 has been spent on street paving, and about three miles of street have been paved with a most substantial kind of pavement.

All over the city, building has been noticeably brisk. About two residences a week are started. In the Nutwood tract on South Glassell, just north of the Santiago creek, six handsome homes have been built this winter.

The building permits for the last six months reach a total of $96,000. The total resources of the banks and building and loan association of Orange are $1,970,225, which is a wonderful showing for a city the size of Orange.

Reports from the local lumber yards and mills indicate that the summer is going to be a busy one.

ORANGE BUSINESS HOUSES TO ADD MANY NEW FRONTS SHOWING SPIRIT OF ADVANCE

Orange News: Marble, mahogany, gleaming tiles and burnished copper, in a word, metropolitan splendors, are to distinguish four new store fronts that will shortly make their appearance in the business district of Orange, and which will typify the spirit of Orange business men, that "there is nothing too good for Orange."

When the plans just announced have been completed, four local business houses will have fronts which for artistry and elegance will be unapproached by anything of the kind in the whole of Orange county. The stores for which new fronts are planned are F. E. Hallman & Co., E. B. Peers & Co., Herman Walther Co., and H. S. Huff. Incidentally, the new fronts involve a change of location for two of the firms. The H. Walther Company and H. S. Huff will occupy the Orange County Garage building, which will be remodelled into two stores.

The front will be of the same general type with modifications suited to the needs of the several businesses. A description of one serves to indicate the elegance of all. The F. E. Hallman Company will have two show windows fourteen feet deep, with a display case which is really a window set before the entrance. These are, of course, plate glass, but with the joints cemented in the latest fashion, so that no wood or metal appears to support the joints. A marble base 18 inches in height sets off the glass, while the entrance aisles, passing on each side of the display case, are beautifully tiled.

The windows themselves are finished in birch and mahogany, with a belt of art glass at the top of the back, and a beamed ceiling effect. The store doors will be copper finished, while a belt of prism glass runs above the windows. The latter will be protected by the latest type of awning, operated on a folding arm, and showing no iron rods when drawn up.

The E. B. Peers front will be a replica in detail of finish of the one described. Instead of a double door entrance, there will be two single doors, with an additional display case placed between them, so that the front will have the equivalent of four show windows.

Both these fronts are being installed by the owners of the Ehlen & Grote building, the management of which is in the hands of P. W. Ehlen. The H. Walther Company front will differ from the Hallman front only in depth of window, the Walther windows being 11 feet 2 inches deep, a size more suitable for clothing display.

H. S. Huff's windows will be 5 1/2 feet in depth, and will be excellently suited for jewelry display. In detail of finish the front will follow the type of the other fronts.

The contracts for these new fronts call for their completion by July 10. Hardeleine-Breunle Woodworking Company are the designers and builders.

Other Changes
Along with the new fronts will come other important changes in some of the stores. A mezzanine floor will be installed in the Hallman store, occupying about 900 square feet, and reached by a broad 8-foot stairway. This will be occupied by the ready to wear department, which will be considerably increased. The under side of the floor will be finished in beaver board, and the whole elegantly carpeted. The pattern department will be assigned to a separate counter and the underwear department enlarged, while various other new counters will be disposed in the space made available by the changes.

The new Walther store will have a front of 24 feet and a length of 98 feet, while the rear 43 feet of the store will be 38 feet in width. An addition on the rear will provide room for the tailoring annex.

The Huff store will be 14 feet wide by 55 feet long, and will be well suited for a jewelry store. D. A. Blank owns the building in which these two stores will be located.

Another Front
The Gumbert & Duker building, now occupied by the H. Walther Co., is to have the front straightened. It will be occupied by a poolroom conducted by Houts & Sutherland.

VACUUM TUBE MAY BE PRESERVATIVE

Independence Declaration May Be Preserved For Infinity of Time

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The original copy of the Declaration of Independence, with its ink fading and its paper slowly crumbling to pieces in the archives of the state department here, and other similar precious documents may yet be preserved to a distant posterity through a discovery by Professor Nathan A. Cobb of the department of agriculture.

While experimenting with the big vacuum tubes in which the department was storing samples of the various grades of cotton, Professor Cobb discovered that indefinite preservation of printed matter may be made in vacuum. About a year ago he cut a newspaper in two, placing half of it in one end of a cotton tube, which was pumped until it was practically an absolute vacuum, and wrapping the other half around the outside end of the tube. For six months it was left lying in a dark closet at the department.

Then he took it with him to his Virginia home and suspended it in the sunlight in an attic window. The paper on the outside is a deep yellow and the ink also shows the effects of light and air, while the paper on the inside is still white, no change that can be discovered having taken place in it.

HOW TO MAKE FARM LIFE MORE ATTRACTIVE AND PROFITABLE

WASHINGTON, June 26.—A more thorough organization of farming and the establishment of credit and marketing systems on a business basis are among the objects of the Rural Organization Service—the latest wing of the many-sided Agricultural Department. There is also the ever present question as to what is to be done to keep the farmers on the farm, or in other words how following agricultural pursuits as a business may be made attractive from a monetary as well as social standpoint and thus overcome the young man's longing for the city.

Dr. Thomas N. Carver, who severed his long connection with Harvard University to become head of the new department service, said today that he took the job "because it will solve for the farmers all the remaining agricultural problems that heretofore have proved the great stumbling block in the perfection of American farming methods. The plan is a new one. It will be in an experimental stage for some years to come. Professor Carver says the plan is the right one, but admits frankly that it will take time to make the system running true to form. Professor Carver, therefore, has been unable to make any statement regarding the plans and workings of this new department. But today he conmented to explain some of the objects and purposes of his department to the people of the country through the United Press.

"The movement we are launching here," said Professor Carver, "is, in my opinion one of the greatest yet undertaken by this government to improve the farmer's financial, physical and social condition. Let me say at the start that it is no detriment to the American farmer that he has not solved these problems for himself. He has had enough to do to plant his crops and then gather them. He has had no time for experiment. He has had but scant time to organize with his co-workers to market his crops to best advantage. We will do this for him by gathering all necessary data to which he can refer at a glance. It has long been recognized that disorganization has been the greatest weakness of agriculture. Such a condition is natural because of the vast number of farms and because of the isolation of most farms. The farmer has learned to co-operate better with nature than with men and he has not learned how to co-operate along financial and social lines.

"We will organize surveys to get at the basic facts regarding organized rural agencies. We will try to be the medium between the farmer and the financier from whom the farmer wants credit. In this respect we will perhaps use a great deal of the information being secured today by the American Agricultural Commission which is studying rural credit systems in Germany and other European countries. We will send localities for the best means and manner of transportation and we will gather data regarding the best markets for certain surrounding farm districts. We will gather information concerning farmers' organizations and we will study even the rural educational systems in an effort to better them. All these facts and data will be disseminated among the 6,000,000 or more farmers of the country without any cost in money or time to themselves, at different intervals and in such a manner as to appeal to the farmers.

"And one more thing we will do as an aid to the farmers will be to study the reasons why the young men from the farms insist on leaving the farm for the city. Contrary to general impression, it is not the farmer who falls who sells out and goes to the city. It is generally the farmer who has succeeded who moves in to town. This phase of our problem is every bit as important as the bettering of the system of rural credits and the establishment of farm banks. We think we have hit the nail on the head at the start. One of the chief reasons for the exodus of young farmers from their farms is the lack of attractiveness in life in the country. How will we remedy this is still a deep question. The promotion of social centers, the suggestion of modernizing the farmers' homes with the installation of all the appliances that go to make life in the cities easier, may be the answer. We are going to try it, at any rate. We have a big work ahead of us—a difficult work—but because a thing is difficult is no reason for failure."

JUSTICE GERARD IS TO GO TO GERMANY AS U.S. AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Justice James W. Gerard of the New York state supreme court has been selected by President Wilson to be ambassador to Germany. Justice Gerard was originally slated for Spain.

The President has decided to nominate former Governor Benton McMillin of Tennessee for minister to Peru. An important post, not in the diplomatic service, is soon to be offered to Augustus Thomas, playwright, according to present plans. There is also talk of the transfer of Maurice Francis Egan, minister to Denmark, to Spain, but no confirmation was forthcoming today.

The embassy to France is still being held open for William F. McCombs.

Practically the only European posts which have not been filled or for which no choice has been made, are Lisbon, Constantinople and the Balkan states.

Joseph E. Willard, former Lieutenant Governor of Virginia, now is slated for Madrid.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

A box of Imperial Valley sweet potato was received on the market late Wednesday, and sold at 15 cents a pound. They were the first to arrive from the valley this season, and as sweet potatoes have been practically out of the market, brought a high price. A few Mexican sweet potatoes arrived but were cleaned up in a short time. It is expected, however, that considerable quantities will be received from Imperial soon. The vegetable has been very scarce for a month or two. The market on green beans was somewhat firmer. Lady Washington dry beans were a shade steeper, owing to the short supply, while pink beans showed a little easier feeling. Peas are rather scarce. Squash and green corn are quite plentiful. Onions continue in good supply. Most green truck is rather abundant.

Large receipts of plums contributed toward rendering the market easier. The principal varieties are the Cherry, Prun, Simoni, Climax, Tragedy, Cherry and Peach, and Wilkin's Early. Peaches continue rather steady, as they have not appeared in large quantities. Apples are in good supply. Only a limited quantity of lemons remain and the demand is light. Cherry receipts are gradually falling off.

Cantaloupes were easier, owing to the continuance of large receipts. Watermelons remained about the same, owing to increasing supply.

There was an upward movement in the egg market, with an advance of 1 cent in local ranch and higher quotations for Petaluma-Santa Rosa extras. Butter was steady, and cheese was firm. There is likelihood of an advance in all three articles.

POINCARE AND POLICE GLAD VISIT ENDS

French President Goes Home
Weary With Round of Gayety
in Merry England

LONDON, June 27.—A very tired French President donned evening dress this morning at the conclusion of his first state visit to a foreign country, and the London detective force heaved a huge sigh of relief when they saw his train out of the station. There were no newspaper men in the president's saloon but it is creditably reported that Poincare worked off a big sigh too.

A round of farewell visits with many exchanges of compliments, "remercements," etc., preceded the departure in state from Victoria station. Once more the Brigade of Guards was stuck for lining the route from Poincare's quarters to the train, and several hundred life-guardsmen cursed over having to once more polish up breast plates and helmets that they might literally shine on escort duty. The King and President, with the Prince of Wales, drove in a six-horse state carriage to the station and there were inspections of the guard of honor and official leave-taking to be got through before President Poincare was permitted to climb into the special saloon car in which he traveled to Dover. The farewell handshake was particularly hearty, and it was agreed on all sides that the visit has still further cemented the "entente cordiale."

To the strains of the "Marseillaise," the president's special steamed out of the station. He was accompanied to Dover by the Duke of Connaught and a brilliant staff, who saw him safely off British soil. The trip across the Channel was made in a special steamer escorted by a squadron of French and English battleships and a destroyer flotilla. It is expected that the King will return the President's visit this fall or next spring, the latter period being the more probable as the Kaiser will want to return the King's wedding visit to Berlin before he becomes too great an admirer of the French. Numerous foreign anarchists who temporarily disappeared from their usual haunts just before the French president got here, were today informed that King George could not entertain them any longer, and they were released from custody. No charges were formulated against them but Scotland Yard likes to keep such persons where they can put their fingers on them on such occasions.

Three naval aeroplanes joined the warships which escorted President Poincare across the channel. All performed admirably, skimming easily above the flotilla until the French shore was reached. Then they flew back to England.

GIRLS WALKING FROM DENVER TO 'FRISCO

Pedestrian Tour Taken for Health; Say They Are Freer of Insult Than in Store

SALT LAKE, June 27.—"Girls are safer walking alone across the country than they are when working in department stores. The insults which they are apt to meet in many stores are totally absent when they are on the road."

These are the conclusions of the Misses Frances Leach, 18, and Mary Coyne, 23, feminine globe trotters who are walking from Denver to San Francisco via the old Midland trail. They are not attempting to make any speed records, having left Denver May 12. They left Grand Junction, Colo., on their western trip a few days ago.

The girls declare that their effort is merely preliminary to a more extended pedestrian tour. They expect to succeed, they will remain on the coast for several months and then attempt to walk back to the Atlantic. "My muscles are as hard as nails," laughed pretty Miss Leach today. "A month's walking out in the open air did that. We both worked for our living in a department store in Denver, and became so run down in health that we decided a trip of this kind was the only thing that would permanently restore our health. When we started I could scarcely walk two miles a day, and now I can do fifteen and get fat on it."

"We have a letter of credit which will help us out in case we are unable to make our expenses by selling picture postcards of ourselves. When we reach the Pacific coast, we expect to rest for a few months, and then start to walk back to the Atlantic. After that, we will feel able to tackle Europe and Asia."

The girls finished the first leg of their long journey—Denver to Grand Junction, Colo., a distance of 475 miles, in three weeks time and arrived in the latter city fresh and unwearied. Although both girls have always gone armed, each carrying a small revolver, they declare they have been subjected to insult only once.

"Two tramps tried to get fresh once," said Miss Coyne. "We tried to walk on rapidly but they pursued us. We were so frightened at first that we didn't think about our weapon. We begged the men to let us pass but they became arrogant at our fear and when they used insulting language we drew the revolvers. Two shots apiece at the ground near their feet and they made Mercury ashamed of himself."

"On the whole, however, we could not ask for better treatment than we received and we feel much safer traveling this way than we ever felt when we were working in a department store. All the men are very kind. Most of them treat us like we were their daughters. Some of the young brackmen get rather sentimental and mushy and offer to give us rides, but we have always declined. We are able to take care of ourselves and can walk to the Golden Gate without begging or sacrificing our self respect. I should just like to see some cheap sport try to start anything with us. I'll guarantee it would be the last time he would ever try it."

Most Children Have Worms

Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, restlessness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. Feeble, ill-tempered, fretful children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains, have all the symptoms of having worms, and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system, and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25c. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.—Advertisement.

RAILROAD TO BUILD TUCSON TO COAST

El Paso-Southwestern Likely to Build to Get Outlet for Road's Business

EL PASO, Texas, June 27.—The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad, owned by the rich Phelps Dodge corporation, may have to build to the Pacific coast from Tucson, Ariz., to get an outlet for freight for the Pacific coast for itself and the Rock Island. The Southern Pacific now handles all Rock Island and Southwestern freight from El Paso westward and delivers to these roads here all freight and passengers from the West for Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Recently the Phelps-Dodge Road built to Tucson and announced that after June 1 it would deliver its freight and passenger trains to and receive them from the Southern Pacific at Tucson. The change was not made. Today the Southern Pacific announced officially arrangements with the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad for transfer of through freight to that line at Alpine, Tex. This plan leaves the Rock Island-Southwestern high and dry at Tucson, unless it builds on to the coast, or sticks to the Southern Pacific.
